

ALEXANDRIA.

MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 10.

THE RICHMOND Dispatch says the judge of the U. S. Circuit Court for Virginia, by his latest decision, "has undertaken to do what, thirty years ago, all the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States would not have attempted to do." That, probably, is a fact; but in it lies the gist of the Virginia debt question. The U. S. Supreme Court has decided that Virginia coupons shall be received in payment of Virginia taxes, according to the terms upon which those coupons were issued, and during the last thirty years a mighty and decisive war, which, as more disastrous to Virginia than to any other State, should naturally have made the more impression upon her people, has established the principle that the States are subordinate to the nation, the decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court override those of all State courts, and, what's more, that any attempt on the part of a State to set at defiance the mandates of the highest court in the land must be put down, even if it shall be necessary to exert the whole power of the national government in order to do so. We are living in the present now, not in the past.

IN ORDER to secure the Richmond "reformers," the Republicans, Mahoneites and "labor party," combined—who derive all their effective strength from the colored voters of that city, the colored newspaper of that city tells them the colored men will not hereafter support them on election day, or on any other day, until they recognize to its fullest extent, "the truthfulness of the statement that he made of one blood all nations and people"; in other words, until they agree to obliterate all race distinctions, as General Mahone once said he hoped would be done, and not only accord the colored people their full share of the offices, but afford them social recognition. No matter what promises the "reformers" may make in order to get the colored vote, they will not in fact comply with that demand, but they will receive the solid colored vote all the same.

IN WASHINGTON, on Saturday last, Judge Saeli decided that boycotting is conspiracy, and imposed a heavy fine on some men charged with it. Every man has an indubitable right to refuse to deal with or to work for any other man; but it is just as certain that no man has the right to combine for the express purpose of injuring any man's business by preventing other men from dealing with or working for him. The Judge referred to is not always right in his decisions, but in this particular case his justice is patent to all unbiased observers. But it must not be forgotten that Washington judges are appointed, not elected, and hold their offices for life or good behavior.

THE DEMOCRATIC DOMINATIONS for the legislature in Richmond were made by a fair, free and open primary election, in which every man, rich or poor, idler or worker, white or black, who gave his word that he would support the ticket to be selected, was allowed to vote. The "reformers' ticket" was elected by lot at a secret meeting of a dozen men representing the different organizations composing the "reformers' party." Which ticket is the more likely to represent correctly and wisely the best interests of Richmond and of all her people?

WHEN THE Attorney General of Virginia waked up yesterday morning and looked out of the grated windows of the Richmond jail upon the capital city of the most distinguished State in the Union, he may have experienced a realizing sense of the supreme folly of kicking against the inevitable. When General Lee surrendered at Appomattox, the theory of State sovereignty became extinct, and the officers of State courts became subservient to those of the U. S. courts, in all cases of which the latter have taken cognizance.

"COL." VILAS, Postmaster General, says "the sovereignty and dignity of the nation are committed to the personal keeping of Mr. Cleveland." If that be so the sovereignty and dignity of the people were committed to the personal keeping of the fraud Hayes ten years ago; but it is hardly to be supposed that even "Col." Vilas will agree to that. Mr. Cleveland is entrusted with the execution of the laws of the country. The people are the custodians of their own sovereignty and dignity.

THE DISGRACE of imprisonment in jail will not, it is supposed, be so great hereafter in Virginia as it has been heretofore, inasmuch as a U. S. Senator from the State and her Attorney General have both recently been subjected to it. As two such high State officials can stand the opprobrium attached to jail birds, people in less exalted positions and in the more humble walks of life need not dread its consequences.

TO A MAN who has read the proceedings of the investigation of the old Shepherd ring in Washington, and the accounts of the Shepherd demonstration there last week—as published in the newspapers of that city—that demonstration does not seem to be at all conducive to the improvement of the public morals of the capital city of the nation.

President Cleveland and party spent Saturday and Sunday at Madison, Wis. They left to-day for St. Paul.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Special Correspondence of the Alex. Gazette)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 10, 1887.

The statistical report of the Department of Agriculture makes an increase of only half of one per cent. in the condition of corn. The past month has been very generally favorable, but the status of a large part of the crop was fixed at the date of the previous report. The average of the seven surplus States is 64.9 instead of 64.2 in September. This is a lower condition than has ever been reported, except in 1881. When the average was nearly seven points lower, and the average yield 18.6 bushels. The indication is now for a yield of a small fraction over twenty bushels per acre. The test of threshing has not materially enlarged the average rate of the wheat yield, which appears to be about 11.8 bushels, or .4 of a bushel less than last year. The increase of acreage, which is large in Dakota, will make partial compensation, and bring the product nearly or quite to 450,000,000 bushels. The yield of oats is slightly below an average. The barley yield is nearly 20 per cent. less than a medium yield, or about 20 bushels per acre. The yield of rye is 11.5 bushels per acre. There has been a drop in the condition of buckwheat from 80 to nearly 77. The condition of potatoes has declined from 67.8 to 61.5, partly from appearance of rot in the Atlantic States. The condition of tobacco averages 75.5 against 70.8. The figures for the States producing shipping and cutting leaf are: Maryland 82, Virginia 90, North Carolina 91, Kentucky 62, Ohio 56, Indiana 45, Illinois 53, Missouri 50, Tennessee 57.

The U. S. Supreme Court met at noon to-day for the regular fall term. The only business transacted was the admission of about fifteen lawyers to practice, each of whom had to pay ten dollars for that privilege, which went to the profit of the clerk of the court. After that it adjourned, when a meeting of the members of the bar was held and appropriate resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Justice Woods were adopted. The resolutions were presented by Assistant Attorney General Maury, and speeches were made by him and Messrs. Riddle, Semmes, Shellabarger and others. Among those at the meeting were Attorney General Garland and Gen. B. F. Butler.

Rev. Dr. Hoge of Richmond, the man who voiced the feeling of the right thinking democrats of Virginia when he said, alluding to the debt question in his State, "what is morally wrong can not be politically right," has been here for several days, a little indisposed. Rev. Dr. Bullock calls daily to see him at his hotel.

It is said here that since a boycott was put on the steamer George Leary, of the Norfolk line, that boat has done a larger business than she ever did before, people patronizing her whenever did so before, and those who always did so now doing so the more.

There is only a ripple in the political waters here over the action of Judge Bond at Richmond. To well informed minds it was a foregone conclusion that Judge Bond would carry out to the letter the Supreme Court's decisions relating to the debt controversy in Virginia. It is of course unpleasant to contemplate the highest judicial officer of Virginia in the common law of Richmond. But it is only fair to remember that he is a voluntary, rather than an involuntary prisoner, and is undergoing his present so-called "martyrdom" for effect of one kind or another. Lawyers frequently go to jail willingly or unwillingly, wittingly or unwittingly, for contempt or alleged contempt of court. The two most recent instances are those of Senator Riddleberger and ex-Congressman Estlin Gibson, the facts of whose cases are known to the country. Aside from all personal considerations, it was observed by a practical and astute politician here to-day that the late proceedings in the Federal court at Richmond were a blessing in this—that the war between the Supreme judiciary power of the United States and that of the Riddleberger reconstructed non-debts-paying democracy and Mahone reputation theories and fallacies must soon end. Both parties, said he, are now brought face to face with the simple problem of having the officials submit to the decrees of the Supreme Federal Court in the matter of the coupons made receivable for taxes by judgment of the highest tribunals in the land, or seeing their agents and officers in duress vie for disobedience to law, and their entire State government demoralized and discredited in an unequal contest where defeat rather than glory must prevail. A new departure from the ill-fated Riddleberger program should be the ending of the present strife, sharpened now to a razor's point by the action of Judge Bond.

Mr. John Goode, of Virginia, is here to-day. He has just returned from an electioneering tour in Virginia—Danville first. He says the democrats in Pittsylvania county, in that State, will elect the State Senator, and the three members of the House of Delegates to which that county is entitled.

A Baltimore democratic politician here to-day says the democrats will carry that city at the coming election by from six to eight thousand majority.

It is reported here that ex-boss Shepherd tried to get some sort of recognition from the common law officers here who were afraid to take a public part in the recent Shepherd demonstration went over to Philadelphia with the ex-boss and sniped with him, to explain their delinquency.

Public Printer Benedict will not deny that the extemporaneous speeches the President is making on his "twing around the circle" were printed in the public printing office at the Government's expense, prior to the President's departure from this city.

The American members of the Canadian fish commission were at the State Department to-day consulting with Secretary Bayard. It is generally supposed that they will favor the most conciliatory terms for the settlement of the existing differences.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—A train containing Gov. Foraker, and a large delegation of Zanesville people, en route to Zanesville, where the Governor delivered an address, was derailed near Roseville, ten miles south of Zanesville, Saturday night by a defective switch. The engine and baggage car kept the track, but the smoker left it, dragging with it Gov. Foraker's car, which went to the brink of a twenty-foot embankment, and was only prevented from going over by a strong coupling to the rear of the coach. Gov. Foraker and party escaped by crawling through windows.

TROUBLE AT A LABOR MEETING.—The progressive labor party held a mass meeting Saturday night in Union Square, New York. A number of George men gathered there also and called for "three cheers for Henry George." The "progressives" asked Captain Riley, of the police, to stop the interruption. When the captain marched his men toward the circle the crowd commenced to move (about 150 in number) interpreted the action to mean that a riot was begun, and immediately charged upon the mass of people. Many persons were badly hurt by blows from the clubs of the policemen.

Surveyor Beattie has preferred charges against Capt. Vallet, of the steamship Albia, which arrived at New York from Naples two weeks ago with cholera on board. It is alleged that the captain did not provide proper hospitals for his passengers; that he failed to provide tables and seats for the straggling passengers, and that in his manifest of passengers he did not give the cause of death of the passengers who died on the passage. Capt. Vallet is held in $5,000 for the grand jury.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The postoffice at White Ridge, Fauquier county, has been discontinued.

A. J. Rogers, who resided on Cedar creek, Shenandoah county, dropped dead in his mill Saturday of heart disease.

Dr. Robert Norton, colored, of York county, will be the anti-Mahone candidate for the State Senate on the Peninsula.

Mr. Marshall Parks, supervising steamboat inspector for the Norfolk district, is very ill, having just undergone a surgical operation.

Mrs. Phoebe, who has completed a handsome residence on her farm, a mile west of Norfolk, at a cost of $40,000, took possession of it last week.

Capt. J. H. Chandler, of Westmoreland county, has been nominated by the democrats as the candidate for State Senator in the 36th district.

Upon the second trial of Withers, the bigamist, in Warwick county, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at three years in the penitentiary.

Eight companies of the 4th Virginia regiment, located near Norfolk, and 150 Confederate veterans of Pickett-Buchanan and Stonewall camps, of Norfolk and Portsmouth, have resolved to attend the laying of the corner stone of the Lee monument in Richmond, on the 27th.

An old war horse, the property of Mr. G. W. Sanders, of Lancaster county, which went through the war in the 9th Virginia, reeling but one wound, died a few days ago. In the retiring years of his life he partook bountifully of the Southern soldiers' pension—affection and kindness.

One of the best barns in the valley of Virginia, belonging to Benjamin Jacobs, of Philadelphia, near Winchester, containing one hundred and fifty tons of hay, one thousand bushels of wheat, some corn, oats and a large number of agricultural implements, was destroyed by fire Saturday night. Thirty head of cattle and four horses, which were in the yard, were also burned, no male person being on the farm to turn them out. Loss $10,000; partly insured.

The State Prisoners.

As stated in Saturday's GAZETTE, Judge Bond, of the U. S. Circuit Court, sitting in Richmond, fined Attorney-General Ayers $500 for bringing suits under the law known as the "coupon crusher" in disobedience of his injunction order, and committed the Attorney-General to the custody of the marshal until the fine is paid. He also fined the Commonwealth's attorney, Fauquier, Col. John Scott, for disobeying the same order, and committed him until the fine is paid and the suits brought are dismissed. Messrs. Ayers and Scott were taken to jail at ten o'clock that night, where they will remain, as they manifest no disposition to pay the fine imposed or purge themselves of contempt, certainly not until their cases have been passed upon by the United States Supreme Court. Mr. Chase V. Meredith and Col. W. W. Gordon, who have been employed as counsel, will apply to one of the judges of the Supreme Bench for a writ of habeas corpus, the record having been made up.

In reply to a question of what would be the future effect upon the coupon crusher act if the Supreme Court held that Judge Bond has jurisdiction in the cases which he has already passed upon, Mr. Ayers intimated that in that event the Commonwealth would find it difficult to enforce that law, but that the Legislature can amend that law or pass others. Some lawyers hold that the Supreme Bench may, without considering the real merits involved in the question of jurisdiction, hold that the mandates of a court must not be disobeyed. Mr. Ayers and Col. Scott are made as comfortable as money can make them under the circumstances, their meals and liquid refreshments being furnished from a hotel, and, barring the fact that they are prisoners, they are having as good a time as possible and are visited by a number of friends.

A Richmond Dispatch reporter called at the Executive Mansion Saturday night and met his Excellency in his office. The question was asked him:

"What have you stay in reference to the arrest and imprisonment of Attorney General Ayers and Commonwealth's Attorney Scott?"

"What! Are they in prison?" said the Governor, with surprise and indignation. "Yes; they are going there at 10 o'clock."

"I'll go down and see Ayers at once. Wait till I wash my face and hands. I have just returned from Washington," remarked the Governor as he started away.

On the way to the jail the Governor spoke freely about Attorney General Ayers's incarceration. He characterized it as an outrageous stride upon the Constitution and the rights of the State. "Judge Bond is opposed," said he, "to the opinions of the best legal minds of the State—such men as Judges Irvin, McLaughlin, Keith, Hon. J. Randolph Tucker, and a host of others. An usurping federal judge can take away the liberties of the people as well by such methods as they can be managed by arms. Virginia people are law-abiding and the case will be carried by a habeas corpus to the Supreme Court. All of the States of the Union are interested in preserving their constitutional rights, and if the Supreme Court sustains this federal judge, the sooner the States insist on an amendment to the federal Constitution protecting, defining, and preserving their rights from such encroachments the better, or our whole form of Government will be altered and an empire will replace a republic."

A deputy United States marshal has gone to Loudoun county to serve upon Commonwealth's Attorney McCabe the order in relation to him. McCabe is fined $100 and costs, &c.

THE MUSICAL BOYCOTTERS FOUND GUILTY.—Judge Snell, in the Police Court of Washington on Saturday, rendered his decision in what is known as the "Musical boycott case," finding the defendants, Lindon, Wilde, Piattorio, Callan, Caldwell, Sloan, Fallon and Fisher, guilty of conspiracy, and imposing a fine in each case of $25, or, in default, a sentence of thirty days' imprisonment. The case is one of the first tried in the District, and excited much interest among labor organizations. (The offense of which the defendants were found guilty was a combination to prevent a bandmaster named Kraus and fourteen of his musicians from obtaining employment, because of his refusal to pay a fine imposed by a municipal union of which he was a member.)

AN OLD ESTATE.—A letter in a Baltimore paper says: "The magnificent old colonial homestead, 'Oaklands,' in Loudoun county, Va., belonging to Mrs. George W. Carter, formerly Miss Kate Custis Powell, will shortly pass out of the family who have held possession for over two hundred years. It is having been placed in the hands of a prominent real estate broker in this city. This once royal estate was ceded to the great-grandfather of the present proprietor by King George, to whom he was counsellor, and whose portrait and that of his wife still hang in the ancestral hall."

"On fortune's cap we're not the very butt, but we think ourselves uncommonly lucky since we found a sovereign remedy for pain. It is Salvation Oil—twenty five cents a bottle."

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Foreign News.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Post, commenting on the fisheries dispute, says: "The main contention of the Americans is that no nation has the right of jurisdiction over the sea beyond a three mile limit. On the Pacific America is acting in flat contradiction to any such principle of inter-state comity or treaty rights. British vessels have been arrested far outside of the limit and their captains fined and crews imprisoned. In some cases the vessels and cargoes have been forfeited. America's Pacific claims form an excellent counter argument to America's Atlantic claims, and as such will be of great and direct value to Mr. Chamberlain."

A steamer and three warships are searching for the British gunboat Wasp, which it is feared was lost in the recent typhoon while on a voyage from Singapore to Shanghai.

VIENNA, Oct. 10.—The Austrian steamer Hapsburg yesterday collided with and sunk a Bavarian steamer on Lake Constance. Many passengers in the cabin were drowned. The exact number is yet unknown. Two bodies have been recovered. Divers are working at the scene of the disaster.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Yesterday, for the first time since the revolution of 1793, the religious ceremonies connected with the festival of St. Denis were suppressed.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 10.—Dhuleep Singh has written a seditious letter to the native papers, in which he says that England has offered him $250,000 in settlement of his claim against the government on condition that he would not go to India. He rejected the offer. His arrest at Aden, he says, converted his loyalty to bitter hatred of England, and he has solemnly resolved to devote his life to freeing his country from the British yoke. He declares that he will serve his new sovereign, the Czar, with his life's blood. It is expected that the letter will induce the journals published in the Indian vernacular to attack British rule.

SOFIA, Oct. 10.—The elections held yesterday for members of the Sobranje resulted in the return of 250 government and 40 opposition deputies.

Murderous Masons.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10.—A special to the Picayune from Greenwood, Miss., says: Prophet Segur, Mike Bown, Robert Brown, Major Mac, John Hinton, Robert Owen, Wash Johnson and Wash Scott, the negro Masons charged with the killing of Harry Taylor and wife, after a hearing before Justice Parks, have been, with the exception of the last named, who gave bond, committed to jail without the benefit of bond to await the action of grand jury, and have been brought here for safe keeping. Morton Ford, who is also in jail, will have a preliminary examination to-day and probably some others not yet arrested. There is clear evidence against them and they will no doubt be convicted. During the preliminary trial it was discovered that a resolution to kill Mr. Kerney, a white man who had a fight with one of their brothers, whose arm he broke, was passed during one of their meetings but the time appointed for the deed had not yet come. Two days were consumed in taking testimony and many other negroes have been implicated. There is no doubt that a colored man, a member of the Dry Bayou lodge of negro Masons, was killed by Harry Taylor and that both Harry Taylor and his wife had disappeared, a body answering to Taylor's being found in the river with marks of violence upon it. The body had been weighted down. The lodges in this county were organized by a negro named Stringer, who claims to be working under the authority of the Grand Orient of France. Their lodge was founded in 1882. Several other lodges have been found in this section. The colored Masons are not recognized by the white Masons at all and their order is not under the authority of the old York Order of Masonry. It is hard to say whether they have an obligation that teaches them to avenge, slay, etc., or whether they construe the obligations they take to suit themselves. The white people of the county are determined to break up their lodges and punish the guilty members of this death-dealing order. The circuit court, when it meets, will decide upon the matters.

"We had quite an exciting time at our house last night." "Ah, what was the matter?" "Why, our fourth floor lodger called out in the middle of the night: 'Wont somebody get me a bottle, quick, please?' 'Whiskey?' I asked. 'No, no—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.'"

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Maurice Strakosch, the well known Italian opera manager, died in Paris last night. At Knoxville, Tenn., Saturday, ten thousand people witnessed the breaking of ground on the Powell's Valley Railroad.

Wm. Shade, a tinner, was shot and instantly killed yesterday afternoon in Baltimore by Louis Franklin, who did not know the pistol was loaded.

The book and job compositors belonging to a typographical union in New York will strike to-day, the employers having granted the demand for an increase of wages, but refused to make their composing rooms card offices.

N. L. McCready, president of the Old Dominion Steamship Company, who had been in Europe for medical treatment, embarked for home on the Etruria, which arrived at New York yesterday. On last Monday night, after the steamer had left Queens-town, he died. The body was embalmed by the ship's surgeon.

It is said that Miss Eibel Sprague, the daughter of Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague and the granddaughter of the late Chief Justice Salmon P. Chase, is preparing for her debut on the theatrical stage. Miss Sprague, it is said, possesses remarkable histrionic talent, and for some time past has been under the instruction of eminent masters of the European and American stages.

In the McKendree Church, Nashville, Tenn., yesterday, Rev. Dr. Chandler delivered a bitter invective against the stage. Emma Abbott, who was in the congregation, defended her profession in general and herself in particular. The congregation applauded and Dr. Chandler said he would not reply to her, "but such a performance is more suited in the theatre than in the house of God."

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The stock market was active and weak at the opening this morning, first prices being from 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. below the closing figures of Saturday. The dealings were quite feverish in the first half hour, and while prices generally made slight advances in the early sales, the advantage was not maintained, and the market quickly declined below the opening figures. A few of the active stocks were remarkably supported and got but a slight fraction below the opening figures. The market later became more quiet and slowly advanced small fractions, and at 11 o'clock it was fairly active and firm at close to opening prices. Money easy at 4 1/2.
